ABOUT THE EXPERIENCE

Spring wildlife at the edge of the world

South Georgia is louder, rougher, stranger and more alive than a standard cruise. It is one of the wildest places a traveller can reach by sea.

In September 2027, travel from Stanley in the Falkland Islands to South Georgia aboard Hans Hansson. With only 12 guests, this is a true small-vessel expedition shaped by wildlife, weather, sea and light.

Spring is when elephant seal bulls haul onto beaches and fight for territory, king penguin colonies gather in staggering numbers, wandering albatrosses return and fur seals begin arriving.

The route can include Grytviken, St Andrews Bay, Salisbury Plain, Gold Harbour, Fortuna Bay, Cooper Bay and Elsehul, but the real plan is to follow conditions.

"To be in the presence of a unique visionary like Martin Gregus and be welcomed into his home away from home in the middle of nowhere is truly a once in a lifetime event right up there with getting married or having a child."

Martin Gregus

Martin Gregus

WILDLIFE PHOTOGRAPHER AND CINEMATOGRAPHER

Martin Gregus grew up in Bratislava, Slovakia, in a household full of artists. He learned photography from his father and was exploring local wildlife with a camera before most kids had decided what they wanted to do with their lives.

His work has taken him across all seven continents and some of the most remote ecosystems on the planet. He has earned two wins and two nominations at Wildlife Photographer of the Year, and his polar bear project, 33 Days Among the Bears, became an international story after National Geographic coverage.

His cinematography has contributed to productions for Disney, BBC and Netflix. In the field, Martin teaches patience, preparation and how to read wildlife, weather and light.

WHY THIS TRIP?

Time to follow wildlife instead of a fixed checklist

South Georgia rewards flexibility. If the light is extraordinary, the ship can wait. If wildlife gathers somewhere unexpected, the route can change.

The 28-night format gives the expedition team room to work with the Southern Ocean crossing and the island's remote coastline instead of compressing the journey into a quick visit.

With Martin beside you, each landing becomes a field classroom in patience, animal behaviour, observation and storytelling.

FAQ

What guests usually need to know

Where does the expedition start and finish?

The expedition starts and finishes in Stanley, Falkland Islands. Final joining instructions will be provided before travel.

Is the itinerary or wildlife guaranteed?

No. South Georgia is remote and weather-driven, so the route is shaped by sea conditions, wildlife activity, light and landing permissions.

What wildlife might we see?

Possible encounters include king penguins, elephant seals, fur seals, wandering albatrosses and other Southern Ocean seabirds. Wildlife is never guaranteed.

Can I join if I am not a photographer?

Yes. Martin's guidance supports photographers at every level, but the expedition is equally suited to wildlife lovers and adventurous travellers.

What fitness level is required?

Guests should be comfortable stepping in and out of Zodiacs, walking on uneven, wet or snowy ground and spending time outside in cold and windy conditions.
