HIGHLIGHTS

Amboseli at field level

WILDLIFE

Elephants beneath Kilimanjaro

Track Amboseli's ancient elephant families across open plains, seasonal swamps and golden dust with the mountain as your backdrop.

GUIDE

Chris Fallows in the field

Learn from a photographer and conservationist with more than 30 years of experience reading wild behaviour and light.

ACCESS

Private safari vehicles

Daily guided drives in private 4×4 Land Cruisers give the group space, flexibility and a stronger chance to work a scene properly.

LOCAL KNOWLEDGE

Expert Maasai guides

Travel with guides who know Amboseli's animals, weather, routes and community stories from a lifetime on the land.

LEARNING

Photography masterclasses

Field technique, image selection, editing and conservation storytelling with Chris over sundowners and camp sessions.

STAY

Seven nights at Osero Sopia

A boutique base near Amboseli with views toward Mount Kilimanjaro and space to reset after long days on safari.

THE EXPERIENCE

The stage is Amboseli. The story is elephants.

Amboseli is one of Africa's great wildlife stages: vast open plains, elephant herds moving through dust, and Kilimanjaro rising behind it all.

Your journey begins in Nairobi with a welcome dinner where Chris shares what drew him to Africa and how he uses photography as a tool for conservation. From there, the group travels by private transfer to Osero Sopia Mt. Kili Camp, your base for seven safari days.

Each morning you head into Amboseli in private vehicles with Chris and expert Maasai guides. The focus is elephants, but the park's supporting cast is strong: zebras, cheetahs, giraffes, raptors, waterbirds and the changing mood of the plains.

Afternoons bring sundowner drinks, image reviews and masterclasses that go beyond camera settings. Chris will push your eye, your timing and your understanding of the animals you are photographing.

Amboseli gives photographers scale, behaviour and atmosphere in the same frame.

"Airguides were exceptional hosts for our Raja Ampat liveaboard dive trip. Seamless, professional and incredibly well organised from start to finish. They truly made the experience unforgettable."

YOUR GUIDE

Chris Fallows

STORYTELLER GUIDE

Chris Fallows is a South African wildlife photographer and conservationist whose career has been built in the field, not from the sidelines.

For more than 30 years, Chris has documented wild places and the animals that define them. In 1996, he became the first person to photograph a great white shark breaching near Seal Island, South Africa, creating one of modern wildlife photography's iconic moments.

His work has appeared in Planet Earth, Shark Week and more than 500 publications worldwide. He has contributed to more than 60 international documentaries and is known for blending technical mastery with deep respect for his subjects.

On this journey, Chris brings the same patience, fieldcraft and conservation perspective to elephants, big skies and the daily rhythm of Amboseli.

WHY BOOK THIS EXPERIENCE

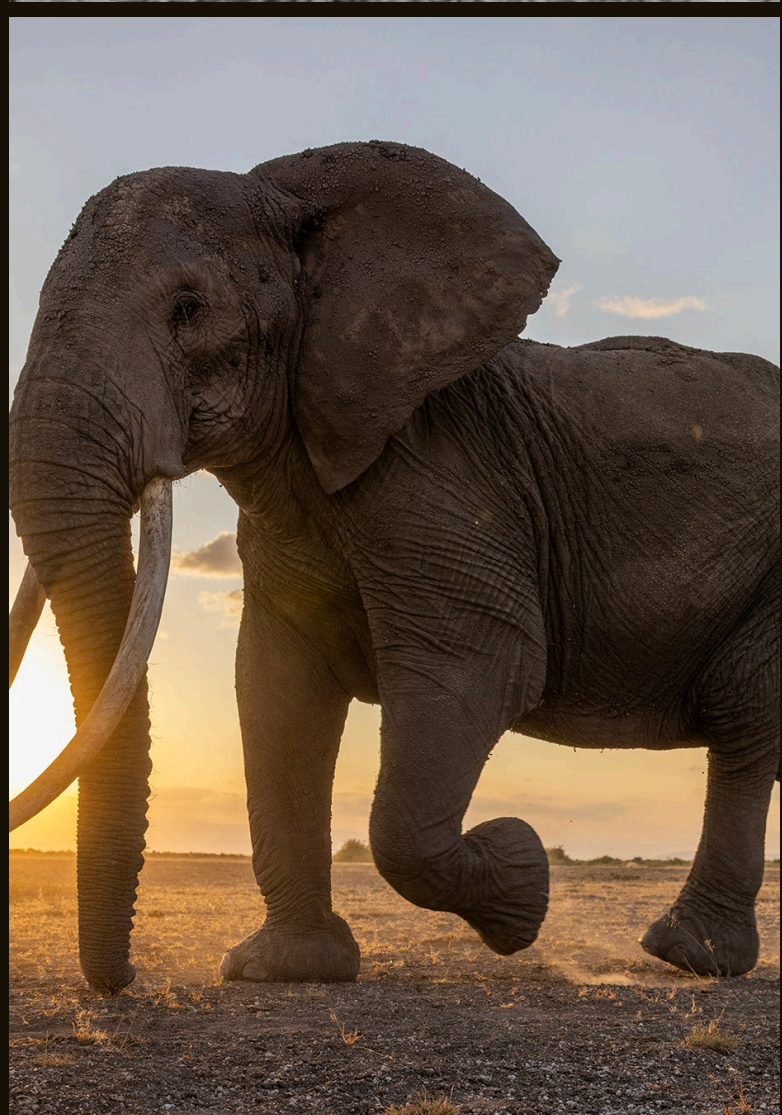

This is not a standard safari with a famous name attached

It is a small-field learning environment built around one of Africa's most photogenic elephant landscapes and a guide who understands how conservation, story and image-making connect.

With only eight guests, the group can move with purpose. Private vehicles mean less compromise in the field. Maasai guides bring local knowledge of Amboseli's animals, routes and communities. Chris brings the long view: how to anticipate behaviour, when to wait, when to move, and how to turn an encounter into a photograph that carries meaning.

The masterclasses are woven into the safari rather than bolted on at the end. You will work in the field, review what happened, refine your approach, and return with a clearer eye the next morning.

Amboseli is famous for elephants, but the real value is the depth: seven safari days to slow down, read the landscape and photograph with intention.

ITINERARY

10 days, paced for the field

DAY

1

Arrive in Nairobi

Welcome to Kenya

Arrive at Nairobi airport, meet the Airguides team and transfer privately to your pre-trip accommodation. This evening, meet Chris Fallows and the group over a welcome dinner and Q&A focused on conservation, fieldcraft and the days ahead.

2

Transfer to Amboseli

Osero Sopia Mt. Kili Camp

After breakfast, travel by private road transfer to Amboseli. Settle into Osero Sopia Mt. Kili Camp, with seven nights here as your base. Spend the first evening watching the light move across the plains and sharing dinner with Chris.

DAYS

3-9

Seven safari days in Amboseli

Private vehicles, Maasai guides and daily masterclasses

Each day begins with breakfast before heading into Amboseli National Park in private vehicles. Search for elephants, zebras, cheetahs, giraffes and birdlife while Chris and the Maasai guiding team help you read the scene. Additional experiences include sundowners, village and community visits, and an optional balloon safari at extra cost. Afternoon sessions cover photography, editing and conservation storytelling.

10

Return to Nairobi

Farewell and onward flights

After a final breakfast, transfer back to Nairobi for onward flights. Departure timing is coordinated by the Airguides team so the close of the journey is smooth, unhurried and properly planned.

ACCOMMODATION

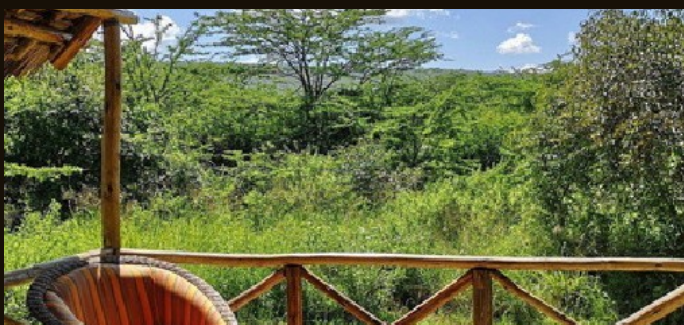

Osero Sophia Mt. Kili Camp

Seven nights at a boutique Amboseli camp with views toward Mount Kilimanjaro and easy access to the safari days.

Osero Sophia Mt. Kili Camp blends comfort with safari character, giving the group a quiet base after long days in the field. Spacious tented suites feature private verandas, comfortable furnishings and thoughtful touches that make the stay feel personal.

The camp's lounge and dining areas are designed for connection, whether sharing the day's strongest frames over dinner or sitting by the fire after a sundowner session.

Shared twin rooms or private rooms are available, with a single supplement where applicable.

IN THE FIELD

Private vehicles, better decisions

The safari days use private 4×4 Land Cruiser vehicles, giving the group flexibility to work with light, animal behaviour and local conditions.

That matters in Amboseli. A strong elephant encounter can unfold slowly, and a rushed vehicle can break the rhythm. Private vehicles let Chris and the Maasai guides make field decisions around the group's photographic goals instead of a generic sightseeing timetable.

Expect early starts, long watches, quiet patience and practical in-field coaching. The goal is not only to see the animals, but to understand what is happening before pressing the shutter.

"A truly unique experience that you will cherish for the rest of your life. You are being given a unique opportunity to go to a place that will only be accessible to a handful of mere mortals."

Anne Prather, Fireweeds 2025

"The Airguides trip to Tonga to swim with humpback whales was the experience of a lifetime."

Mb Myers, Tonga 2024

FAQ

What guests usually need to know

Do I need to be an advanced photographer?

No. The trip is built for wildlife lovers and photographers who want to improve. Chris will adapt guidance to the group, from field technique to storytelling and editing.

What camera gear should I bring?

A camera with a telephoto lens is ideal for wildlife. A recommended gear list will be shared before departure, including practical guidance for dust, storage and field workflow.

Is the balloon safari included?

No. The balloon safari is optional and can be arranged separately, subject to availability, weather, safety and local operating conditions.

How physical is the trip?

Most safari time is spent in vehicles, with some camp walking, village visits and uneven ground. Guests should be comfortable with early starts and long days outdoors.

What wildlife will we see?

Ambosemi is famous for elephants, with strong chances for zebra, giraffe, cheetah, hyena, raptors and rich birdlife. Wildlife is wild, so sightings cannot be guaranteed.
